To Select UN Forces From African Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council early today approved Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's plan to speed a stopgap U.N. military force drawn mostly from African nations to the new republic of the Congo in an effort to keep it from collapsing into anarchy.

Immediately after the council acted, the secretary general assured that first steps to put the force together would be taken "in a couple of hours." Initial elements of the force were expected to be in the central African country before the end of the week.

Belgian Soldiers Try to Enforce An Uneasy Peace

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Congolese civilians began burning automobiles of Europeans today as Belgian soldiers tried to enforce an extremely uneasy peace in the capital city of the new Congo Republic.

The automobiles of three Belgians were stopped within an hour in the downtown area and set on fire.

The small force of Belgian soldiers patrolling the sprawling city was helpless to prevent the burnings and a series of assaults and robberies.

At least three members of the native army were killed by Belgians Wednesday night.

One was shot when a band of mutinous Congolese troops tried to ambush a Belgian army column taking 1,000 refugees to the airport.

Two others were killed during the night, and the death brought on an almost general strike in the staffs. Most stores were closed, and the few groceries still open in the white sector were besieged by Europeans stocking up.

Big Turnout For Annual Tipton Fair

The annual Tipton Fair got underway Wednesday with an unusually good first-day turnout, apparently motivated by ideal weather.

Swine and sheep shows were held during the afternoon, and the cattle show was held last night.

Winners in the swine show were E. C. and Kenny Howard, California, showing the champion Hampshire ram; R. E. Kirchner, Syracuse, showing the champion Hampshire ewe, the best sire and three of that sire's offspring, and the best flock—one ram and three ewes. All of Kirchner's winners were Hampshire sheep.

Winners in the swine show were Carl Allee, Tipton, showing the champion Spotted Poland China boar; Glenn Bros., California, showing the champion Chester White sow, the champion Chester White boar and two sows; Don Strobel, California, showing the champion Duroc barrow, 170-200 pound class; Loy Allee, Tipton, showing the champion Spotted Poland China barrow, 200-230 class; Glenn Bros. showed the best pen of three market barrows, which were Chester Whites.

The Tri-County Horsemanship will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday night. This is limited to competition from Monticello, Morgan and Cooper counties. Friday and Saturday nights' horse shows will be open to all comers.

Herman Knipp is president of the fair, and Jim Thiel is secretary. Music is being provided by the Tipton High School band, with Ray Johnson directing.

First Methodist Roof Of Entrance Damaged

The roof of the Osage Street entrance of the First Methodist Church was damaged Wednesday morning when four large pieces of granite slipped loose from their long-time places on an uppermost eave and fell on the roof.

One of the huge blocks drove a seven-by-four-foot hole in the roof; one made a smaller hole; the other did no damage.

Repairs were being made today by the Cramer and Schrader Construction Company. The Rev. Roy Stribling was not available for an estimate on the cost of the damages.

Kishi Is Stabbed By a Jap Fanatic

TOKYO (AP)—A rightist fanatic stabbed Premier Nobusuke Kishi six times in the left thigh with a hunting knife today at a party celebrating the choice of pro-Western Hayato Ikeda to succeed Kishi.

The assailant, Daisuke Aramaki, 65, was arrested on the spot. A member of a small, uninfluential ultranationalist group, Aramaki said it was not an assassination attempt, that he only intended to injure Kishi. He refused to say why.

Some political sources speculated that Aramaki, whom police linked to a prewar terrorist group, considered there had been a double-cross in the selection of Ikeda, trade minister, to succeed Kishi as president of the dominant Liberal-Democratic party and chief of the government.

Coincidentally, Communist-led demonstrators took to the streets shouting opposition to Ikeda.

Plans for this demonstration, avowedly against "a pseudo-Kishi Cabinet," were announced weeks ago after Kishi disclosed he would quit.

Police estimated 23,000 persons marched in the columns that filed for three hours past Parliament and the Premier's official residence. Newsmen agreed there were at least 45,000.

The leftist-led council against the U.S.-Japan security treaty, which went into effect last month, claimed a turnout of 70,000.

At the head of the column was a Communist banner reading "American forces get out of Japan." A party sound truck playing "The Internationale" brought up the rear.

Kennedy Sweeps States

Many States Leaped On Bandwagon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—State by state, they were swept up by the Kennedy tide. Did they jump in? Were they coaxed? Pushed?

Many leaped to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee for president. He won them over. He was energetic. He gave the appearance of a brave young man, willing to take on all comers in primary elections.

He spoke readily, if not eloquently, on any subject. He had looks, the appeal of a handsome leading man to girls, of an engaging lad to mothers.

He had experience, six years in the House, eight in the Senate. He was a war hero. He wrote books, received a Pulitzer prize. Most of all, he drew votes. He won seven primaries.

Many were cajoled by a skillfully devised and deployed organization. They had to be persuaded. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. He is only 43—too young, some of his detractors said. Among their other belittlings, they said he hadn't entered all the primaries. He shifted position over the years on major issues. He was too rich. He was the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, once called an isolationist and an appeaser.

Some delegates had to be shoved by that same relentless Kennedy organization. The candidate himself could not convince them, not until pressed to stay in line or shown that the Kennedy parade was passing them by.

Jack Kennedy arrived in Los Angeles last Saturday the obvious front-runner. He had campaigned. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had stayed in Washington most of the year, running the Senate. Sen. Stuart Symington had divided his time between seeking votes and voting new laws. Adlai E. Stevenson had waited for others to beat his drums.

With four days to go, Kennedy claimed over 600 of the necessary 761 convention votes. Cold figures, obtained independently, credited him with 546, Johnson with 235.

That was on Saturday. On Sunday, Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago unwrapped his package for Kennedy, 59½ of 69 Illinois votes. Gov. Edmund G. Brown of 81-vote California declared for Kennedy. So did Govs. Herschel C. Loveless of Iowa and George Docking of Kansas. At nightfall Kennedy had 620½, Johnson 273.

200 Persons Burn to Death In Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP)—More than 200 persons were burned to death Wednesday night in a fire in a Guatemala City insane asylum.

Authorities said the number of dead might rise to 300. The fire broke out shortly after midnight and quickly swept through the old building, which housed 1,400 inmates.

About 600 persons were trapped in the inner part of the building and firemen, police and volunteers were unable to get all of the inmates out.

Police said many of those burned to death were inmates locked in cells.

The fire threatened the adjacent General Hospital, part of which was evacuated before the asylum fire was brought under control after seven hours.

Charred remains of the victims were placed in an impromptu morgue this morning. Most of the bodies could not be identified.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Soviets and US In Bitter Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter United Nations battle between the Soviet Union and the United States seemed assured today over the issue of which of the two great powers is responsible for threatening world peace.

The issue was sharply drawn Wednesday night when President Eisenhower accepted a Soviet challenge on U.S. aircraft flights and declared his determination to make a case "on the lawless actions and reckless threats of the Soviet government."

The challenge was hurled by the Soviet government when Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko a few hours earlier demanded an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council. In a cable to U.N. headquarters he charged the U.S. Air Force with aggressive activities against the Soviet Union and said they constitute a threat to the peace of the world.

In a statement from his vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I., Eisenhower declared the United States is "ready and willing" to go to the Security Council for a full discussion of what he called the "wanton shooting down" by the Russians of an RB47 plane July 1.

The United States declared in a note to Moscow Tuesday that the plane was shot down over international waters at least 30 miles from the Soviet coast on the Barents Sea.

The Soviet Union had charged the previous day that the jet reconnaissance bomber had violated Soviet air space. A Soviet note to Washington linked the RB47 flight with the May Day U2 spy flight which went down in the Ural Mountains.

About the time that the President's statement was being released at Newport, the Navy said in Washington that a Soviet trawler which cruised close to the Atlantic coast last April was an electronic spy ship.

Rides Roughshod Over Opposition

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts held the cherished Democratic presidential nomination today.

But his roughshod ride over all opposition on the first ballot Wednesday night left some gaping holes in the "strong and united party in all parts of the United States" which he told a cheering convention he will lead into the November election.

In an attempt to placate angry Southerners threatening to walk out on the ticket, there were reports Kennedy might turn to Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri as his running mate.

Symington, who mustered 86 votes to Kennedy's winning 806, is regarded as acceptable to the South.

Informed sources said the new nominee's choice had been narrowed to Symington and Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson of Washington. Jackson was named by brother Robert Kennedy as his own personal favorite.

But there were some among the Kennedy strategists who urged that first refusal of the vice presidential nomination be given to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

With Kennedy's guidance, the convention is expected to name the vice presidential nominee tonight.

In a demonstration of power that surprised even his own leaders, Kennedy swept to a smashing first-tally victory as the first Roman Catholic to be nominated for the presidency since Al Smith.

He rolled over Johnson, the South's choice, who collected only 409 votes. He left Adlai E. Stevenson, the darling of the sentimental and excited galleries, far behind with 79½ scattered votes.

To win, Kennedy didn't need any of the 43 Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey kept in his corner, nor any of the 41½ that were cast for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The booming tallies of the big states, where the heavy electoral vote will count most in November, put Kennedy across in a convention that had accepted his nomination as an almost foreclosed matter and had little for delegates to shout about.

In the showdown, New York laid 104½ votes on the line for the Massachusetts senator. Pennsylvania chipped in with 68, Ohio 64, Illinois 61½, Michigan 42½, Massachusetts 41, Indiana 34, and California 33½.

William Ernest Mertgen, 16, Route 1, Florence, received a severe puncture wound of the lower abdomen in an accident at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday on Highway 135, north of Florence. The accident involved a 1952 Ford driven by Mertgen and a parked combine.

The hospital reported late Wednesday night that Mertgen suffered a ruptured spleen and kidney and that both were removed. The operation lasted three hours. Mertgen also suffered a laceration of the left thigh and shock, the hospital said. Mertgen had received about four pints of blood up to 10 p.m., and was scheduled for three more during the night. His condition was critical.

According to the Highway Patrol, Mertgen was the driver of the Ford headed south on 135. Mertgen apparently lost control on a curve, went across the road and collided with the combine, owned by Otto Zimmerschied, Route 2, Sedalia.

About $300 damage was done to each vehicle.

Kennedy's Remarks To Delegates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Following is the text of Sen. John F. Kennedy's remarks to delegates after being voted the Democratic presidential nomination:

Gov. Collins, Chairman Butler, Gov. Brown and my mother and my sister:

Under the official procedures of this convention, it is not possible for me to give you an answer to your nomination until Friday night, but I think you can guess what the answer will be.

Four years ago, in another great city, on the occasion of our 1956 Democratic convention, I came to the platform and moved that the name of our vice presidential nominee, Sen. Kefauver, be made unanimous. Therefore, I have some recognition of the feeling of my friend and colleague Sen. Johnson, and my friend and colleague, Sen. Symington.

Their generosity and the generosity of the other favorite sons in moving that this nomination be made by acclamation, I think, gives us promise of going to the people of the United States in this election as a strong and united party in all parts of the United States.

I hope that those who have so loyally supported them will join with me. This is an important election, in many ways the most important election in the history of this country. All of us in this room and across the country are united together in our devotion to this country.

Airman Is Charged With Molesting Child

Burl W. Smith, an airman from Whiteman Air Force Base who lives in LaMonte, waived his preliminary hearing in magistrate court Tuesday on a charge of molestation of a minor, and was ordered held for trial in circuit court.

Smith's bond was set at $2,000 and he was committed to the county jail when he was unable to post bond.

Smith allegedly molested a 7-year-old child last Thursday near Valley City. He was picked up and interrogated by OSI officials at the base.

Smith was released to Pettis County officials because he and the child both lived in LaMonte, but in turn was released to Johnson County because the incident occurred in Johnson County.

Kennedy's Tireless Battle Overcomes 3 Big Issues

EDITOR'S NOTE: The almost faultless strategy and the keen organization of the Kennedy for President drive was the talk of the Los Angeles convention before the first gavel fell. Bruce Bissat, Newspaper Enterprise roving political reporter, has covered Kennedy's campaign from the beginning in 1956 to its successful conclusion. This is a report on how Kennedy did it, it is based on exclusive talks with the candidate and the key men in his organization.

LOS ANGELES (NEA)—It was February, and Sen. John F. Kennedy's campaign for the Democratic nomination was rolling with surprisingly early speed. A man telephoned a Kennedy manager and said:

"Somebody's making some pretty sharp decisions. Who's doing it?"

The reply: "You ought to know by now. It's John Fitzgerald Kennedy."

Others helped mightily, above all his brother Bobby, his one real political counselor, who in Los Angeles drove the fabulous Kennedy combine to reap a full delegate harvest; Ted Sorensen, the Senator's storehouse of varied talents, and Larry O'Brien, unsung No. 1 field man and hard-hitting delegate rustler.

At base, however, it has been Kennedy himself the entire way.

This is the story of the critical decisions he made in his tough, tireless, four-year fight to overcome the three big strikes chalked against him from the start: his Catholicism, his relative youth and his wealth.

Along the battle trail, he left scars, heard grumblings of "ruthless pressure" yet saw professionals smile in disbelief at his chances.

But when his rivals reached Los Angeles they struck a massive wall of Kennedy delegate strength. With a shock they learned he had already grasped the hard-won victory in the field.

Within three days of their arrival, his two avowed opponents privately admitted the crushing truth. Quickly the wife of one said:

KENNEDY COULD smile and relax after West Virginia was over, but for a time his prospects looked dark.

"At least now, he can get some sleep."

Kennedy, seldom sleeping and never stumbling as they had expected, outgeneraled them throughout. He fashioned victory from the ground up, building popular pressures that engulfed leaders and delegates almost everywhere in the country.

It can now be reported that Kennedy alone made the hard choices affecting such battlegrounds as Wisconsin, West Virginia, Ohio, California, Maryland, New York.

Linked with the making of the big decisions were an important pre-Christmas telephone call, a secret operational base in a seaside motel, a turning-point speech atop a car hood in a West Virginia mining town, a casual chat in a Senate office building corridor.

When Kennedy on Jan. 2 stood in the marble Senate caucus room and announced his entry into the 1960 race, it was a kind of beginning. But the real beginning went back to the sudden fame he acquired in the 1956 convention battle for the vice presidential nomination.

That event and its aftermath made him a presidential candidate.

But his three barriers loomed large. Says an associate: "Running through everything he did was the constant conviction that he'd never give it to him, that he'd have to fight for the nomination every inch of the way."

That explains his fundamental decision: to cultivate nearly every state in the union, to woo the popular support that might persuade leaders and delegates to swing behind him.

The decision meant not merely travel but voluminous correspondence. A top manager tells what was done:

"Wherever he went — and the hundreds of daily invitations gave us easy access any place we wanted to go — we always got the names of all those at the dinners. They all got letters. We built a 'grass roots' file and a political file."

"Today the political file holds

40,000 names broken down into seven categories — governors, congressmen, state chairmen and so on. And we've had 5,000 delegate cards loaded with pertinent information."

In 1959 Kennedy hit 39 states. By convention time this year he'd logged around 125,000 additional miles. The senator himself imposed the pattern on this relentless effort. Hear an aide:

"One Saturday morning early last October, he gathered a lot of us up at Bobby Kennedy's house on Cape Cod. The purpose was a general review of the campaign effort."

"As we sat around, it was perfectly clear that Jack himself was the one who knew best what states needed more attention, what specifically had to be done and who should be seen. None of us could match him."

Near the end the professionals watched in amazement or anger. A man in Sen. Stuart Symington's camp said:

"There's no doubt about it. Jack Kennedy has done a terrific job, far better than most pros thought he could."

A Texan high in Sen. Lyndon Johnson's headquarters commented ungrudgingly:

"Kennedy has done the best organization job I've ever seen in my life."

And former President Harry S. Truman, charging the convention had been "rigged," finally refused even to come to Los Angeles.

Kennedy's grand slam of seven primary victories supplied immense psychological advantage but they provided only 210 of the needed 761 votes. The great bulk of his winning total came from non-primary or non-binding primary states.

These votes were the pay-off for the great initial decision that underlay all the others: to run like the very devil.

Stu Backers Ready Veep Nod Attempt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington's supporters stood ready today to launch a drive to win him the Democratic Vice Presidential nomination if he gives them the word.

But Symington said Wednesday night it was entirely up to presidential nominee John F. Kennedy to designate his running mate.

And Symington left completely open the question of whether he would accept such a bid if it comes.

Symington hid the severe disappointment he must have felt at losing out for the convention's grand prize last night.

Soon after Kennedy's victory, the Missouri Senator emerged from his hotel suite and, in the same calm manner he has displayed all week, read a congratulatory statement to the victor.

"I will certainly do everything I can to make sure he is the next President of the United States," Symington added. "There must be fresh inspiration in the White House and Sen. Kennedy will provide it."

Symington had campaigned all over the country since his formal announcement as a Presidential contender in March.

But his efforts added up to only 96 votes on the roll call last night, 39 of them from Missouri.

Symington's strategy had been to present himself as the compromise candidate who might win out on a unity theme if the front runners were blocked and the convention went to several ballots.

Rep. Charles H. Brown, the Senator's campaign manager, told reporters no overtures of any kind had come from the Kennedy camp on offering the Vice Presidential nomination to Symington.

Brown said he could not make any prediction as to what Symington would do if the offer did come.

But he said Symington "is a real patriot. He would make his decision in the light of what he could do for the country and what he could do for the Democratic party."

Brown added he was sure Symington "would add immeasurably to the strength of the ticket."

However, Stuart Symington Jr., who worked hard in his father's campaign, told a reporter: "I think Dad would be much better off to stay in the Senate. He can do much more for the state there."

Mary Jane Case, Donald Odneal United In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Mary Jane Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Case, Bunceton, and Mr. Donald L. Odneal, Bunceton, were united in marriage Sunday, June 26, at the Bunceton Baptist Church at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Rev. Robert Streeter performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of white gladioli, hydrangeas, ferns, baby breath and lighted tapers.

Mrs. John Gerhardt, aunt of the bride, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Linda Morris, soloist, who sang "Because" and "O Promise Me."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length wedding gown fashioned of white Chantilly lace and tulle over bouffant net and taffeta underskirts. The fitted bodice was styled with long tapering sleeves and a high scalloped neckline accented with iridescent sequins and pearls. The very full skirt featured back panels of alternating lace and tulle. A queen's crown of sequins and pearls held the fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and Stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Alice Odneal, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink organza in ballerina length fashioned with a rounded neckline and brief sleeves capping the shoulder.

Miss Barbara Gerhardt, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of blue silk organza styled identical to that of the maid of honor. Each wore a queen's crown of pearls with circular veils in matching colors and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations.

Candlelighters were Miss Mary Lou Kirkpatrick and Mr. Tommy Lane, Bunceton, cousins of the bride. Miss Kirkpatrick wore a mint green gown identical to the bride's attendants.

Serving as best man was Mr. Victor Dover, cousin of the groom, Sedalia, and Mr. Wayne Kahle, Columbia, served as groomsmen. Ushers were Mr. James Case, brother of the bride, and Mr. Larry Meyer.

Miss Deborah Gerhardt, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a blue silk organza gown and a pearl crown made identical to that of the attendants. She carried a white basket filled with rose petals.

Master Paul Odneal, cousin of the groom, served as ringbearer. He carried the rings on a white satin pillow edged with lace.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Case chose a navy blue dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The groom's mother also wore a navy dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The serving table was covered with a bridal satin cloth and an overskirt of white net. The four tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded by fern and delphiniums, centered the table.

Those assisting in serving were Miss Gay Baughman, Sedalia, Mrs. Sue Warmbrodt, Mrs. David Bryan, Bunceton, and Miss Carole Stegner, Billingsville. Miss Frances Case, Boonville, had charge of the guest book. Miss Cora Stegner, Billingsville, and Miss Linda Odneal, Prairie Home, took care of the gifts.

For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue sheath dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage taken from the bridal bouquet. The couple took a short trip through the south.

The bride and groom are both graduates of the Bunceton High School and the groom attended Missouri University. The bride is employed as secretary at the REA office in Tipton and the groom is employed by the State Highway Department.

Hopper Likes Paul Drake Role in TV

EDITOR'S NOTE — The author of the following guest column plays Paul Drake in "Perry Mason," presented Saturdays from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., over the CBS network.

By WILLIAM HOPPER
Written For The Associated Press
I guess I'm what you might call a dramatic second banana in television, and I think it's the best spot in the bunch.

As Paul Drake, the detective who acts as a kind of runner for Perry Mason, I can enjoy two great acting fulfillments — I'm creating a personality, and I'm needed by that I don't mean that I'm indispensable, either as Bill Hopper or as Paul Drake. But the second banana is a necessary ingredient of a show like ours. If there weren't a Paul Drake, there'd have to be a character like him.

In less than an hour of show time, we have to tell a full story, and sometimes a pretty complicated one. Obviously there isn't time to include all the action that is necessary to the story and to full understanding of the details by the audience.

So they have to be explained with a different device.

In one short phone conversation, Drake and Mason can let the audience in on story details that might take many minutes to enact on the screen. That's why I say that I, or somebody like me, am a needed element in the show.

As a fan of the Erle Stanley Gardner novels, I have been fascinated to watch this guy Drake develop from the printed page to television and back to the printed page again. Either I'm getting to be more like him, or he's getting to be more like me.

In the original Gardner books Drake is much more breezy, talkative, and comic-reliefish than he is on the TV show. He's flashier, you might say. In our scripts, a lot of this personality stuff had to be toned down, mostly for the reasons I've already described. We have too much to include in a single hour to explore and develop a lot of characters. So Paul has to be pretty businesslike. He is as close to a legitimate private detective as there is, I believe, in show business. He works for Mason as a legman, doing research, tracking down clues and gathering information, and reporting these things as briefly and as quickly as possible to his employer. No fuss, no frills, no scenery-chewing.

Since the show became well established, I find that the Paul Drake of Gardner's written stories is becoming less breezy and more businesslike—in other words, he's getting to be more like the television character.

Occasionally I get a yen for more action—for instance, when my young daughter complains that I don't "get in fights and all those exciting things like the other private eyes." But that's just a kick at my fatherly pride, I suppose. Because I do get a kick out of all the mail from actual private investigators who write to tell me how much they enjoy the show, and Paul Drake, because he's for real.

News Quintet In Rafters Keeping Calm

By BOB THOMAS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The man of the moment is Sen. John F. Kennedy. The men of the week are a quintet of TV newscasters who have entered American homes more often than the milkman.

By now you should be familiar with the warm tones and fluent diction of the famous fivesome. If you had a pocket of credentials and if your arches could stand it, you could see them doing their work at the Democratic National Convention. Come along.

We climb the west side of the Sports Arena to ear-popping height until we reach the ABC booth hugging the ceiling. There we find John Daly, just as calm and unruffled as if he were joshing panelists on "What's My Line."

"This convention hasn't been so bad," he says with a genial grin. "Only five or six hours at a clip. I can remember one convention when I sat in this chair for 16 hours."

The heart of the ABC operation is to his right. Engineers and executives are lined up before screens that show the operations of the network cameras. Daly keeps in touch with them and also listens to a headset that gives him different messages in each ear. "A torture instrument," he calls it.

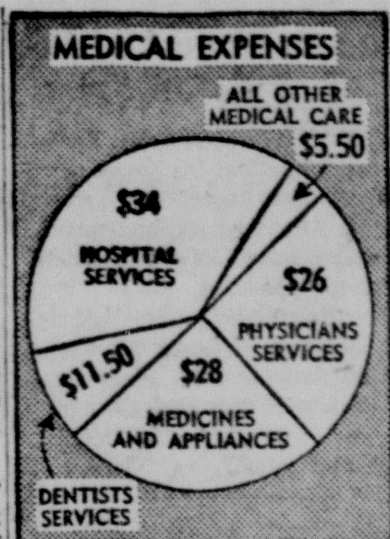

Come along for another rugged hike down the stairs and up on the east side of the arena, facing the rostrum. In this quiet height is an insulated booth where work Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. Only it doesn't look like work.

The NBC twins sit calmly at a table that places them 18 inches apart. Their curly heads untouzeled, they glance at the TV screen and then out the window to the convention floor. Occasionally one flips a switch before him and utters a sentence or two of comment.

Their proximity in the tiny booth presents problems. As we leave, Brinkley murmurs to Huntley: "Could I make a blanket apology for kicking your shins and stepping on your shoes?"

Now the walk is downward to the arena catacombs, where the armies of the press and air are pouring forth the convention news. By snaking through the CBS corridors we come to an impressive studio which contains Walter Cronkite, anchored to a desk surrounded by banks of electronic marvels. His moon face shines under the bright yellow lights as he listens to the latest dope in his earphone.

At his left is the familiar face of Edward R. Murrow, somewhat clouded in cigarette smoke. He was added to the main desk operation in midconvention, giving CBS an anchor fore and aft. The move was explained by CBS News President Sig Mickelson: "At first Ed wanted to be a reporter and rove around. But we wanted to make more use of him."

Sen. Johnson Thoroughly Humiliated

By Robert E. Hennessee
Of Our Washington Bureau
LOS ANGELES — Senator Lyndon Johnson was a thoroughly humiliated man today.

And it fell to the lot of Missouri to add the final touch when Johnson was denied the one chance he had to avoiding the utter.

By rights of his 409 votes, a disappointing total, but second high, job of asking that John Kennedy's nomination be made unanimous should have fallen to Johnson's Texas delegation. But, acting quickly, Missouri did it and the night was over and Johnson was a forgotten man. Texas had raised its hand.

Symington's 97 votes at the end of the roll-call were certainly disappointing and reflected as much as anything his lack of organization. Just prior to balloting, rumor spread over the arena that he was withdrawing in favor of Kennedy. Symington's manager, Charlie Brown and chief senate aide, Stanley Pike raced about trying to squelch the rumor but it probably cost him some votes.

Johnson had only about 60 votes from outside the south and border states — certainly a poor showing for even a southerner who had been chiefly responsible for putting over two Civil Rights Bill in Congress.

Although Johnson was second to Kennedy, he was never in the running at this convention. If the other candidates had managed to stop Kennedy, and they might have succeeded had they gotten by just that one ballot, the nomination almost certainly would have gone to Adlai Stevenson. It was only the great spirit of Stevenson's forces and their wild demonstrations which caused New Jersey and Minnesota and other individual delegates to stay off the Kennedy bandwagon, thus leaving the nomination in doubt nearly to the end.

Generally, delegates from the South were pessimistic over Kennedy winning in their home precincts. They pointed to his Catholic religion.

But the northern professionals who put Kennedy over felt that party could only win if it carried states in the industrial complex stretching from Boston to Chicago. And they felt they had their man.

If Kennedy's pre-election form matches his pre-convention form, then Richard Nixon may well have him more than his match.

Necessity Is Mom Shoe Lace Gadget

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—An East Lansing man thinks he has solved the knotty problem caused when children's shoes come untied.

Charles S. Ruffing, an educational television specialist at Michigan State University, found necessity the mother of invention.

He and his wife have four small children and the shoe laces just wouldn't stay tied.

Ruffing perfected a small clip-like gadget that snaps over the top of the shoes and holds the laces securely.

A dime store chain and a large drug organization placed sizable orders after a shoe firm ran consumer tests showing the gadget was well received in Detroit.

Dalton Nixes Court Order of Appointment

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton ruled today the Jefferson County court has no authority to order the appointment of a rabies control officer to be paid from public funds.

William B. Milfelt, Jefferson County prosecuting attorney, requested the opinion of the guidance of the county judges and the trustees of the County Health Center.

The county court had issued a quarantine order because of the prevalence of rabies. The attorney general noted such an order, by law, is to be enforced by police officers, town marshals and constables. But there is no legal authority for appointment of a special rabies control officer in third class counties.

Mercury Bomb Didn't Go Off; Not Doomsday

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP)—It's not doomsday after all. The zero hour passed without Dr. Elio Bianca's dire prediction of a world shattering cataclysm coming true.

The bearded Milan pediatrician had predicted that a mystery "mercury bomb" explosion would tilt the world off its axis and touch off a second deluge. Only he and his believers would escape disaster.

So with 100 followers Bianca set up a salvation station on Mt. Blanc, and calmly prepared to sit out the end of civilization.

Bianca did not say who would touch off the bomb. He said it would be an accident. It would send the seas boiling in over the lowlands of the earth.

The Bianca group headed for the mountain at the start of the month but their preparations were useless.

As the hour approached, Bianca and his followers locked themselves in the hut. About 300 sightseers stood outside. Several minutes after the hour passed, a door of the hut opened and one of Bianca's followers put his head outside the door. He was greeted by boos and jeers from the crowd so he pulled his head back inside.

Bianca did not make an appearance.

Congo Breaks Off Diplomatic Ties With Belgium

BRUSSELS (AP)—The Congolese government has broken off diplomatic relations with Belgium, Baron Paul Kronacker, president of the House of Representatives, announced today.

Premier Gaston Eyskens had been scheduled to make a statement on the most recent developments in the Congo situation, but Kronacker said Eyskens was prevented from coming to the House because news of the diplomatic break-off had just reached Brussels.

Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny then declared that Belgium will ask the United Nations for an international investigation of the crimes committed in the Congo.

"Our first duty is to protect human lives," he said.

"Furthermore, Congolese authorities themselves asked for our troops' intervention. In spite of that, we got July 12 ultimatum from President (Joseph) Kasavubu ordering the withdrawal of our forces within two hours. We rejected it."

There seemed to be differences of opinion over the military role Belgians are to play in their old colony, freed only two weeks ago, when peace finally returns.

Two government members said Belgian troops will retire to their bases in The Congo after U. N. military forces restore order, but will not leave the new central African nation.

The ministers' statements to newsmen after a Cabinet meeting appeared at variance with Belgian U.N. Delegate Walter Lorrain's declaration to the U.N. Security Council early today that Belgium would withdraw its troops when the U.N. force is on the scene and able to provide security.

USC Coed Shot In Library By Spurned Lover

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The quiet of the University of California's main library was shattered Wednesday by two shots. One killed a 21-year-old coed, one blinded the girl's slayer in a suicide attempt.

Sonja Lillian Hoff looked up from her book to see a fellow senior from Long Beach, Calif., who had changed his name from Bertran Joseph Hawk to Mohammed Abdullah. Witnesses told police Abdullah, 21, strode directly up to the blonde Berkeley girl, pulled a .38-caliber revolver from his pocket, and fired point-blank at her forehead, killing her.

Abdullah fired a second shot into his own head. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition, blinded in one eye. Hospital attendants said he was expected to live.

Friends of the dead girl said there had apparently been one-sided love affair and that Miss Hoff had told Abdullah to leave her alone.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Miss Florence Smythe is going to be lonely. She'll have only two dogs for company. She had 30 until today.

Neighbors of the 59-year-old woman complained to police about so many dogs in her small house. She was charged with disturbing the peace.

Magistrate Howard Aaron offered to dismiss the charge if she would part with 28 of the dogs. Miss Smythe cried and pleaded: "Dogs are not like men. They do not curse. My dogs are good."

But the magistrate was adamant. And Miss Smythe parted with all except two of her pets.

Pitcher Reinstated In Ban Johnson Loop

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Directors of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League Wednesday night reinstated Chick Walters, Mexico pitcher, who had been suspended for taking part in the state non-pro tournament.

Walters was suspended by the league Wednesday night along with virtually all members of the Jefferson City Ban Johnson club, which since has withdrawn from the league. Suspension of the Jefferson City players stands.

The directors explained that Walters was reinstated because the league felt he hadn't been properly forewarned by his own club officials.

Moscow Radio Claims Proof of Recon Spies

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio claimed today that the Soviet government has proof to show that the American reconnaissance plane shot down July 1 invaded Soviet air space.

The English-language broadcast, beamed to North America, claimed that the RB47 plane was equipped with guns and ammunition and was carrying "intelligence apparatus."

Russia Said To Be Lying About Plane

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—The White House said today the Soviets are "just lying" in continuing to contend that the U. S. Air Force reconnaissance plane shot down in the Arctic was over Soviet waters.

The lie charge was made by President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, as a bitter U.S. and Soviet Union argument over the episode shaped up in the United Nations Security Council.

The Soviet Union demanded Wednesday that the Council meet in emergency session to consider its charge that America's planes engaged in aggressive activity which threatens world peace.

Eisenhower responded that the U. S. government is willing and ready to go before the Council in order to focus world attention on what he termed "the lawless actions and reckless threats" of the Soviet Union.

At a news conference at the President's vacation headquarters today, Hagerty was told the Moscow radio still is claiming that the RB47 reconnaissance plane shot down July 1 was over Soviet waters—and that the United States has no idea where it was brought down.

The U. S. government has said the plane was over international waters and that at no time was it within 30 miles of Soviet territory, waters or air space.

"They are just lying, that's all," Hagerty declared in commenting on the continuing Soviet claims.

Hoff had told Abdullah to leave her alone.

New Whiteman AFB Chapel To Officially Open Sunday

The official opening of the new Whiteman Air Force Base Chapel will take place at 3 p.m. Sunday, according to Base officials.

The ceremony includes an address by Chaplain (Major Gen.) Terrence P. Finnegan, Chief of Air Force Chaplains. He will be introduced by Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Eugene L. Lamb, SAC deputy staff chaplain.

During the ceremony Col. George L. Newton Jr., wing commander, will formally turn over the completed Chapel to Chaplain Philip L. Green.

Also scheduled to be present at the ceremony are Brig. Gen. Robert H. Strauss, 17th Air Division commander; Chaplain (Col.) Alphonse B. Slivinski, Second Air Force staff chaplain; and Chaplain Slivinski's deputy, Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Hoyt T. Wood.

One of the features of the opening ceremony will be a performance by a combined choir consisting of singers of all faiths from Whiteman and neighboring civilian communities. The Sedalia Mens Choral Group is included. The choir will be under the direction of Dr. Ralph E. Hart, head of the music department at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg.

The combined choir will sing the Air Force Hymn, "Lord, Guard and Guide the Men Who Fly," by Genuchi. Also planned by the choir is a performance of "Salvation Is Created," by Tschonokov.

Invitations have been extended to religious leaders of all faiths from the surrounding area Chaplain Green said.

Following the official opening ceremony, a reception will be held in the base Dependents School opposite the new Chapel. The reception will be sponsored by a committee of Whiteman women's religious groups of all denominations.

Whiteman's new Chapel is "one of the most modern and well-equipped" in the Air Force, according to Chaplain Green.

The new building has a seating capacity for 300 persons in main floor and balcony pews with a maximum capacity of nearly 400 with the addition of extra chairs.

The pews, altars and altar rails are oaken with fruit wood finish. Along the sides of the nave are eight stained glass windows with a modernistic non-denominational design which suggests an Air Force motif. A ninth window dominates the rear entry way of the building. The Whiteman Chapel is one of the few in the Air Force with such stained glass windows.

Musically, the new Chapel will have two organs and a grand piano. One of the organs will be located in the balcony and the other in the chancel. The piano, which is finished in wood similar to that of the pews and altar, will also be located in the chancel.

There will be a private choir robing room immediately off the chancel area.

In the Chapel Tower a chime system is to be installed. Throughout the Chapel, a new seven-speaker combination sound and intercom system will provide recorded background music, as well as communication.

In the north wing of the new building there is a Catholic sacrament room which is complete with an altar, similar to the main altar and two confessionals.

At the front of the main Chapel an Air Force blue drapery hangs behind the main altar.

Special lighting within the nave highlights the altar and the chancel area. To light the nave there is a double row of brass and glass light fixtures which have been created in a special design which complements the design of the windows.

In the entry-way, a special memorial plaque is to be mounted in remembrance of those who have died here. The names of the deceased will be inscribed in a "Book of Remembrance" to be kept in a special book stand along with the Chapel Guest Book.

Although the Chapel and grounds were turned over to the base by the contractors too late in the season for extensive landscaping, it is planned to plant a memorial rose garden either this fall or next spring.

Fans Will Recall Heroics Of 3 Superlative Players

NEW YORK (AP) — They'll be talking about the second All-Star game for years to come.

Not so much because the Nationals won it for an unprecedented sweep of the two-year-old two-game midsummer set to narrow the Americans' over-all margin to 16-13.

Not so much because for only the third time since its inception in 1933 has an All-Star game ended in a shutout, such as Wednesday's 6-0 victory, or for the third time have four home runs been hit by one club.

Not so much because for the second time in three days was the victory credited to a Pittsburgh pitcher, Bob Friend won in Kansas City Monday and Vernon Law won in New York Wednesday.

Not so much because in winning, NL Mgr. Walter Alston accomplished, within 10 months, a grand slam in baseball by winning a pennant, a World Series and two All-Star games, or because in losing, AL Mgr. Al Lopez suffered his sixth All-Star loss, two as a player, one as a coach, and three as a manager.

The 38,362 paying customers in Yankee Stadium will long remember the second 1960 All-Star game because of the heroics of three really superlative performers, three players who belong on any All-Star team in any generation—Willie Mays, Stan Musial, and Ted Williams.

Willie the Magnificent, back in New York where he last played in 1957, duplicated his spectacular Kansas City performance by smashing a single and home run off New York southpaw Whitey Ford and another single off Detroit right-hander Frank Lary. The San Francisco special also stole a base. In center field, Willie was his magnificent self, making four putouts. One was on a 425-foot smash by Mickey Mantle to deep center which he made look easy.

Mays, who also cracked three hits—a single, double, and triple—in the first game, now shows a .438 All-Star average on 14 hits in 32 at bats.

The only person not excited about Mays' performance was Willie himself.

"Can't let it go to my head," he said. "When I find myself feeling good about something I done, I remember that next day I could be a bad one. And man, I have had some bad ones. Some were so bad I could cry."

At a nearby cubicle in the winning team's clubhouse was another smiling player, the ageless Musial.

"You know," he was saying, "I really had a feeling I was going to hit a homer. I can't explain why you feel that way. But you do."

Stan, at 39, and playing in his 19th All-Star game, was referring to the home run he hit as a pinch hitter off Gerry Staley of Chicago in the seventh inning.

The 41-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger didn't disappoint the fans, either. He slashed a hard single to right as a pinch hitter in the bottom half of the seventh. It was one of the eight hits given up by six NL pitchers.

Williams, who, like Musial, is playing his last year, now has 14 hits, which include four home runs, 12 runs batted in, and 10 runs scored in 18 All-Star appearances.

The only American Leaguer to have more than one hit was Hansen. The rookie shortstop had two singles on top of a hit in the first game.

The other National League homers were hit by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and St. Louis' Ken Boyer. Mathews, in the midst of a batting slump which caused Alston to drop him from second to sixth in the batting order, hit his off losing pitcher Ford in the second inning after a single by teammate Joe Adcock.

The best showing of any of the five American League pitchers was made by Early Wynn, 40, Chicago right-hander. He retired six straight batters in the two innings he worked.

The National used 26 players, a record, and the American 21. The only player who didn't see action in either game was southpaw Dick Stigman of the Cleveland Indians.

RUN DOWN—The National League's Willie Mays is tagged out by American League third baseman Frank Malzone in the first inning of the All Star game in Yankee Stadium in New York.

York. Assisting on the play is catcher Yogi Berra. The umpire is Tom Gorman. Mays was trapped between third and home on an attempted steal. (AP Wirephoto)

Tough to Pick Winner

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Picking a men's Trans-Miss winner was about as easy as throwing baseball past Willie Mays as the 57th annual golf tournament rolled into the second and third 18-hole rounds.

Any one of nine golfers rated high to succeed Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, who chose not to defend his title.

They were Deane Beman, Bethesda, Md.; Bob Cochran, St. Louis; medalist John Garrett, Houston; Charles Coody, Stamford, Tex.; Jim Vickers, Wichita; Labron Harris Jr., Stillwater, Okla.; Jacky Cupit, Houston; Juan Estrada, Torreon, Mexico; and Glen Fowler, Oklahoma City.

Haddix Goes For Braves' Scalps Today

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Harvey Haddix, the little Pittsburgh left-hander who pitched 12 perfect innings and still couldn't beat Milwaukee a year ago, opens the second half of the 1960 season tonight shooting for his fifth victory in a row against the Braves.

Milwaukee, five games behind the front-running Pirates in the National League, counters with its ace lefty, Warren Spahn, a fellow who used to beat the Pirates as regularly as the Braves once beat Haddix.

The game at Pittsburgh is the only one scheduled for the day after the second All-Star game in New York. The majors' three-day respite started Monday when the National League beat the American 5-3 in the first 1960 All-Star game in Kansas City. Then the Nationals made it a sweep with a 6-0 followup Wednesday.

Tonight's game is a makeup. Friday, Cincinnati comes into Pittsburgh. Milwaukee goes to Philadelphia. Chicago is at St. Louis, and Los Angeles, the hottest team in the NL, is at San Francisco.

In the American League, action resumes Friday with New York, in front by 2½ games, at Detroit, Washington at second-place Cleveland, Baltimore at Chicago, and Boston at Kansas City.

On May 26, 1959, Haddix pitched the unprecedented 12 perfect innings against the Braves, then lost in the 13th on one hit. That setback was one of seven straight he was handed by Milwaukee during 1958-59. But 1960 has been a different story.

The Pirates hold a 9-3 edge over the Braves in the season's series. Haddix has four of those victories, and Milwaukee hasn't beaten him this season.

Harvey has defeated Spahn twice, and the Braves' southpaw, who went 5-0 against Pittsburgh last year, didn't stop the Pirates until July 4, with three innings of hitless relief for a 7-6 10-inning victory.

That was the first game of a double-header and at that point the Pirates had won only two of their nine previous games. But along came Haddix in the nightcap with a six-hitter good for a 7-2 victory that righted the Pirates.

It was Harvey's first complete game against the Braves in 14 tries since Sept. 14, 1956.

Haddix has a 6-4 season record, Spahn is 8-6. But reverse Haddix's 4-0 against the Braves and Spahn's 1-2 against the Pirates, and Milwaukee would be the team that's out in front by five games.

Sedalia Chiefs Host Improving Tipton Tonight

The Sedalia Chiefs, holding third place in the Western Ben Johnson division, try for their eighth victory of the season when they meet Tipton at Liberty Park at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Sedalians will have to hustle all the way to down the Improving Tipton nine. Tipton managed to defeat Marshall, holding second position in the Western division, 6-5 in a 12-inning duel. When Tipton met Lowry City, they almost beat them, but finally went down with a 3-1 loss. Lowry City is the league leader.

The Chiefs have lost some heart breakers this season, and many of the officials feel that with some good breaks, the Chiefs could have been in first place in their league.

For this season, the Chiefs have lost four games, three of them by one run. Lowry City defeated the Sedalians twice, 6-5 and 2-1. Marshall dropped Sedalia 4-3 the first time, and 6-1 in the second game.

Jim Coons, with a 4-1 record in league play, will probably be on the mound for Sedalia in the Tipton game.

After tonight's meet, Sedalia will play Lowry City next Sunday. The game will be a type of grudge meet, Sedalia attempting to partially make up for their losses against the Bulldogs, leading the league with an 11-0 record.

Tom Robb, Crnic Pitch Shutouts Wednesday Night

Tom Robb kept McCown's in first place in the Babe Ruth League Wednesday night by hurling a two-hit, 5-0 shutout at Western Auto. Overshadowing Robb's fine performance, however, was Gary Crnic's five-inning no-hitter against Anderson's in the tail end of the twin-bill. Brown's won that one, 10-0.

McCown's batters collected eight hits off the losing pitcher, Wilhite, with Bill Ferguson's sizzling single in the first inning driving across Ken Bersano with what proved to be the winning run. McCown's played errorless ball.

Singles by Wilhite and Meredith were the only hits off Robb.

Brown's jumped off to a 2-0 first-inning lead over Anderson's on the hitting of Bob Nagel and Crnic. Anderson's has not won a game this year. The game was called after five innings because of the run rule. Jonson was the losing pitcher.

Possible Complaints From Texas Seen

CINCINNATI (AP) — If there are any complaints about the 30th annual women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament, they must be coming from Texas.

Wanda Sowell of Tyler, Tex.,

eliminated Sandra Palmer of Fort Worth Wednesday. Today she faced another foe from her own state, tiny Sandra Haynie of Austin, who was the hottest shooter in the field in Wednesday's second round. Miss Haynie was five under par Wednesday in crushing Mrs. Bert Craig of Cincinnati, 7 and 6.

Miss Haynie, a high school senior, is twice Texas state champ at the age of 17. Miss Sowell is the current Texas public links champ. Wednesday's second round brought the elimination of the defending champion, Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa. She was a 3 and 2 victory over blonde Barbara Slobe, 20, a typist from Waukegan, Ill., the 1958 Illinois women's champion.

That left Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, Md., as the only former winner of the Trans-Miss, still in the field. Miss Downey, who won in 1951, had to go 19 holes to win from Diana Hoke of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Today Miss Downey met Jo-

Liston Prepares Sleep Potion For Zora Folley

DENVER (AP) —Sonny Liston says his sleep potion is prepared for Zora Folley who's scheduled to fight the Philadelphia knockout artist for 12 rounds Monday night in the Denver Coliseum.

"Folley talks about going 12 rounds," Liston scoffed at a training session Wednesday. "I'll see that he don't go 12 rounds — I'll give him the sleep potion."

The slumber drug is a knockout punch embraced in Liston's 14½ inch left fist. The potion, usually applied with a left hook, has sent to dreamland 20 of Liston's opponents in 30 bouts. He's lost only one.

Folley, a slick boxer from Chandler, Ariz., says little about

Anne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., one of the hot favorites for the title. Miss Gunderson, the national intercollegiate champ and a 1960 Curtis Cup team member, was a 4 and 3 victor over Mrs. James Pickrel of Dayton, Ohio.

Another top favorite, Curtis Cupper Judy Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., also stayed in the running with a 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. R. E. Mueller of Cincinnati. She was three under par for the distance.

John F. Kennedy Will Be Youngest If He's Elected

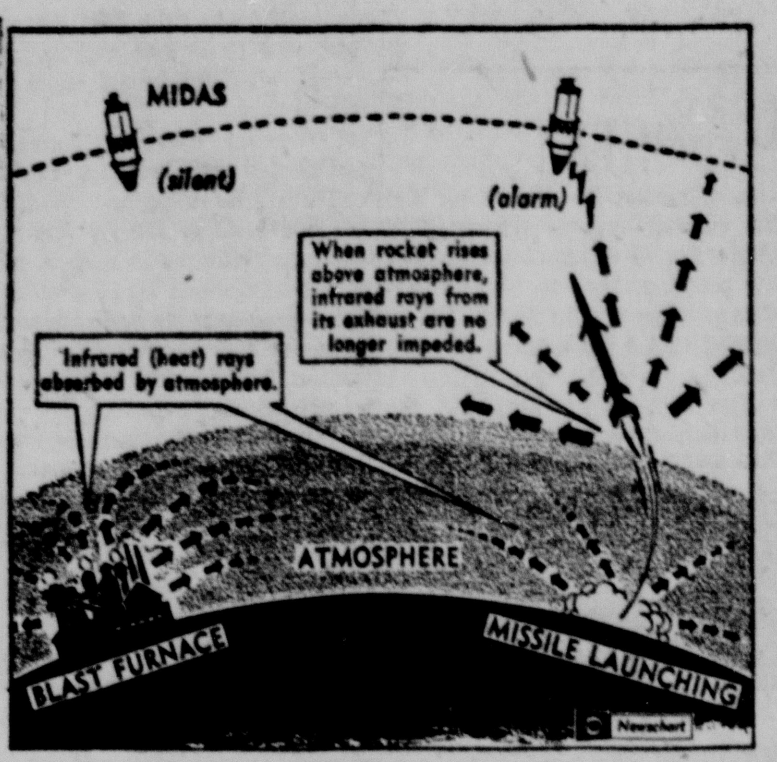

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. John F. Kennedy wins the presidential election this fall he will become, at 43, the youngest man ever elected to the presidency and the second youngest ever to hold the office.

If Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 47, wins the Republican nomination as expected and then defeats Kennedy in November, he will be the third youngest president in U. S. history.

The youngest president ever was Theodore Roosevelt, just 10 months past his 42nd birthday when he succeeded to the White House on the death of William McKinley. McKinley was assassinated after less than a year in office. Roosevelt had been vice president.

The youngest president-vice president team ever to win a national election was U. S. Grant, 46, and Schuyler Colfax, 45.

The average age of U. S. presidents on the day of their inauguration has been 56.

HOT SPOTTER—Short of having a spy at enemy headquarters, satellites like the newly launched MIDAS II will one day give America the earliest possible warning of a missile attack.

Sketch above shows how the MIDAS (missile detection alarm system) works. The satellites will not only detect missiles, but plot their courses and relay the information to ground defenses. It is claimed that they will ultimately be so refined that they will even be able to recognize the exhausts of different kinds of missiles. Testing of the system may have to wait until MIDAS III, however, since MIDAS II's infrared scanner has not been functioning properly, the Air Force says.

Bastille Day Marred By Algerian Explosion

Police Seek Ted Link For Kill Charge

UNION, Mo. (AP) — Police today sought St. Louis Post-Dispatch crime reporter Theodore (Ted) Link who, failed to surrender on a warrant charging him with homicide Wednesday.

Link was charged in the fatal shooting of Clarence Calvin, 35, a laborer whom Link suspected of burning down the Link summer home near St. Albans, Mo., last Friday.

Link shot Calvin twice with a 12 gauge shotgun and three times with a .38 caliber pistol in an altercation at the ruined home Monday.

During a Franklin County Coroner's Inquest Tuesday, Link and his eleven-year-old son, Ted Junior, gave different versions of the shooting. Link said he fired at Calvin when Calvin charged him, armed with a knife and a pronged hoe.

The boy, only witness to the shooting, said he thought Calvin was seated when the first shotgun blast was fired and was on the ground when the pistol shots hit him.

A warrant charging homicide was issued by Franklin County Magistrate R. H. Schaper Wednesday and bond of $10,000 was set. The usual charges in such a case in Missouri would be first or second degree murder or manslaughter. County Prosecutor Charles E. Hansen said he himself knew of no precedent for the charge and said it was issued because state statutes indicated it was necessary after the Coroner's Jury returned a verdict of homicide and named Link in it. The verdict did not state whether the homicide was felonious or justifiable.

Wednesday afternoon, Sheriff H. Bill Miller said he was notified by a lawyer Frank Jenny, that Link had retained him. Jenny told the Sheriff Link reported he was having a hard time finding a bondsman and the lawyer asked if it would be alright if Link surrendered in the morning instead of Wednesday evening.

Sheriff Miller replied it would not, that Link "must surrender by 5 p. m. and he would be treated no differently from anyone else under the circumstances."

Link did not appear and the sheriff issued the arrest order.

Three Generations Helped Sen. Jack Win Nomination

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Kennedy clan—three generations of it—went to bat with money, sweat and stamina to get Sen. John F. Kennedy the Democratic presidential nomination.

Their team spirit got its start on the playing fields of Harvard. They found it could score for them in politics too.

Alongside Jack were Kennedys ranging from his multimillionaire father, Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to Britain, to the family's 16 grandchildren.

Youthful Kennedy brothers visited coal mines, leaped from ski jumps and worked around the clock in primaries from New Hampshire to West Virginia.

His wife, mother and sisters presided at political teas and receptions, shook thousands of hands.

In-laws pitched in as well. Among these is movie actor Peter Lawford.

The subtle rules of the game left the ranking Kennedy clansman on the sidelines, though.

Joe Kennedy, 71, whose major ambition is to see his son president, kept out of the campaign front line and made no public speeches.

Jack and his aides reportedly thought it best for the controversial old man to stay on the sidelines, though they say he exerted "terrific" influence over Jack.

Joe Kennedy has his own political scars. He served as U.S. ambassador to Britain in the days of Munich and Adolf Hitler.

The elder Kennedy is still tagged with an isolationist label from those early World War II days when he tried to keep America out of the war "unless we are attacked."

He was a good friend of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and staunch admirer of Chamberlain's "peace in our time" dealings with Hitler.

He was called an appeaser, a charge he said was "false and malicious."

Though he later lashed out at Nazi brutality and persecution, Kennedy said in 1938 that dictators and democratic countries, instead of hammering away at each other, should try to establish good relations. "We have to live together in the same world, whether we like it or not," he said.

It was reported that Ambassador Kennedy urged Winston Churchill to make a deal with Hitler after Dunkirk. Kennedy finally resigned as ambassador at the end of 1940.

Eight years ago, when son Jack launched his Senate career, father Joe tried to sever the cords of political inheritance.

Joe Kennedy declared he was "in complete disagreement with his son" on foreign policy. "I couldn't possibly have a worse argument with anyone about foreign policy than I have had with my son," he added.

But Joe Kennedy was plugging for Jack to win the senatorial nomination and the subsequent election.

He didn't make public speeches or campaign for his son. But even then he wore a deep blue tie with the silver inscription "Kennedy for President," a gift from friends.

The driving ambition of presidential candidate Kennedy doubtless comes from his Irish-Catholic father. Brought up in a moderately well-to-do Boston family, Joe Kennedy set out to be a millionaire by the time he was 35—and succeeded far ahead of schedule.

Today, Joe Kennedy's wealth, derived from banking, liquor, the motion picture industry, shipping and Wall Street interests, has been estimated in the tens of millions.

To each of his nine children—seven are still living—he said he gave a trust fund of "at least a million" each.

The Kennedy family, including all those married into it, are a tight-knit group. They are devout Catholics. Cardinals have officiated at their weddings.

When the clan gathers at the family summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., in Cape Cod, athletics is usually the main interest. Touch football has long been a favorite with them.

Joe Kennedy's four sons followed in his footsteps and were graduated from Harvard, where they starred at baseball, football or swimming.

His five daughters were educated in Catholic schools, convents and colleges.

All but the eldest daughter, Rosemary, who teaches in a convent school, are married and have children.

Tragedy struck two of the Kennedy children.

Eldest son, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was killed as a Navy pilot in World War II. He had been the first of the young Kennedys to embark on a political career.

Kathleen Kennedy, already a war widow, was killed in a plane crash in France in 1948 at the age of 28. Her husband, son of a British duke, had been killed in World War II combat.

Success at a youthful age seems to be a family pattern.

President of a Boston bank at age 25, Joe Kennedy Sr. said: "It's no crime to be young."

Now his son Jack, at 43 one of the youngest presidential nominees in history, is fighting the stigma of a youthful appearance in seeking a venerated office.

The Kennedy clan has politics in its blood. Jack's grandfather, Patrick J. Kennedy, started out running a saloon and became an East Boston political boss. His mother, Rose, was the daughter of famed Boston Mayor John F. (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald.

Perhaps as imbued with politics as Jack are his two brothers, Edward and Robert, both lawyers and stalwart campaigners.

The youngest, Edward, 28, nicknamed Teddy, took over in 1958 as Jack's campaign manager and has been in the thick of things since.

When Jack ran for the senate in 1952, brother Robert F. had the campaign job. Since then, Bobby, 33, rose to a prominent role as chief counsel of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Last September, Bobby quit his Senate investigating job to write a book about labor rackets, entitled "The Enemy Within." It was published in the midst of the 1960 primaries, adding to the Kennedy publicity.

How To Beat The Heat!

A cool, attractive, cereal and milk breakfast adds balm to the spirit and provides the body with quick and lasting energy for the hot day ahead. Skipping breakfast is not the answer of how "to beat the heat." Quick and lasting energy are very important aids when it comes to ways to "beat the heat." The quick energy gets you started in the morning, the lasting energy keeps you at top performance for the entire morning.

Summertime offers so many opportunities to prepare attractive, refreshing breakfasts that will tempt wilted appetites. To ensure an adequate breakfast, simply use a basic breakfast pattern for your guide. This pattern includes fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

Chilled melons are wonderful summer breakfast fruits because they add variety and make a good contribution of vitamin C. Breakfast cereals offer many choices of both the regular and pre-sweetened types. The cereal and milk breakfast is the quickest, easiest, and most convenient to prepare. Other adequate breakfasts require longer preparation time, more work, more clean up, and cost more.

St. Louis Widow Found Riddled With Bullets

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 59-year-old widow was found shot to death and stuffed in a closet of her suburban Kirkwood home Wednesday night.

She was Mrs. Ann Conway Davison, widow of a coal dealer.

Late Wednesday night police issued an arrest order for her son, Glennon Joseph Davison, 28, on suspicion of homicide.

St. Louis County Coroner Raymond I. Harris said the victim was apparently shot to death in her bed, then carried to a storage closet off an adjoining bedroom. A quilt, with apparent bullet holes in it, covered the body.

There was a large patch of dried blood on Mrs. Davison's bed. Police recovered a .45 caliber bullet from the innerspring mattress and another on the floor near the bed.

There were seven bullet holes in Mrs. Davison's jaw, abdomen, thigh and back.

Coroner Harris said death occurred 18 to 30 hours before the body was found.

The discovery was made by Kirkwood Patrolman Robert May who had accompanied two of Mrs. Davison's sisters to the home.

The son is a former engineer for the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. but was unemployed the last year or so. He lived with his mother.

Doomsday Looms For Huddled Group on Blanc

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP) — This is doomsday for 100 people huddled in a building 7,150 feet up Europe's highest mountain, waiting for someone to set off a "mercury bomb" and tilt the world off its axis.

The followers of Dr. Elio Bianca, a bearded Milan pediatrician, were sure that the bomb, to be set off accidentally today but by whom they don't know, would send the seas boiling in over the lowlands of the earth. That's why they headed for Mt. Blanc at the start of the month.

Instead of a bomb, the blast may come from a big fireworks display. The police said they had been told that "certain gay young spirits" planned to set off the fireworks at the predicted hour of doom to scare the daylight out of the cultists.

Bianca and his followers were dug in at a "survival" pavilion nearly half way up the 15,780-foot peak in the Alps. They sealed the windows of the lower floor with concrete in case the waters got too high. Cracks in the walls were plugged with cotton to keep out radiation.

There was one hitch in their plan—10 boats they ordered to navigate after the deluge had not arrived from a sporting goods house in Genoa.

Stu Pledges Kennedy His Full Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington said he will do everything he can to help Sen. John F. Kennedy win the Presidency.

The Missourian issued a congratulatory statement and pledge of support at his hotel suite shortly after Kennedy won the nomination. Symington watched the convention on TV.

Symington has been mentioned frequently as a possible vice presidential nominee but he told news-men he had not received any overtures for this post from the Kennedy camp and had not given any thought to whether he would accept a bid for the second spot.

In his statement, he said: "I wish to congratulate my friend and colleague, Sen. Kennedy, on his nomination."

"Now we must do all in our power to elect him."

"I will certainly do everything I can to make sure he is the next President of the United States."

"There must be fresh inspiration in the White House and Sen. Kennedy will provide it."

"I also wish to thank my friends everywhere for their steadfast support of my candidacy."

"I deeply appreciate their backing. I know they will join with me in giving Sen. Kennedy the same loyalty and support they gave to me."

Symington watched the balloting with members of his family and close friends.

He emerged smiling, but looking weary, to read his statement. Symington said all he was interested in at the moment was trying to get some sleep.

Blitz Voting Just Rolled Around Oval

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It rolled on and on, one state after another.

It moved forward relentlessly with a kind of inevitability while Johnson supporters hoped for just enough of a roadblock to slow its momentum and Stevenson admirers prayed for a miracle.

But neither roadblock nor miracle came to pass.

And at 10:50 Wednesday night, Sen. John Fitzgerald Kennedy of Massachusetts became the Democratic nominee for president of the United States.

The count on the big tote board over the speakers' platform stood at 750 to Kennedy and 405 for Johnson at 10:49. The young man from Boston was now just 11 short of his dream.

Then came Wyoming at 10:50. Some 25,000 persons in the Los Angeles Sports Arena and untold millions in the television world beyond turned to watch the Wyoming delegation in the middle of the jammed, tense oval.

"Mr. Chairman, Wyoming casts its 15 votes for John Kennedy, the next—"

And Kennedy was in on the first ballot.

Inevitable or not, there is a kind of magic when the big moment comes, a magic to stir even the hearts of cynics with the thought that at this precise tick of time the 34th president of the United States may have been chosen.

Somehow part of the magic is that after three long days of grubby wheeling and dealing behind hotel room doors, or ritual, meaningless rhetoric and sheer nonsense on the convention floor, one of our two greatest political parties achieves a solemn majesty.

It had made a choice in a wondrous moment of dignity reborn, for a party and a nation.

The high moment came after many low moments. After endless speeches in which nine names were placed in nomination, four of them seriously, five as favorite sons. After a long, droning march of superlatives, enough to drive Paul Bunyon underground. After endless demonstrations on cue by partisans who waved banners, screamed, stomped, growled and called upon to make faces and noises for the kids.

And finally at 10:00 the convention

tion was ready to vote.

"Alabama votes 20 for—"

Every time the clerk repeats a vote wrongly, the crowd roars like a gigantic schoolroom catching the teacher in an error.

At 10:49 p. m. Wisconsin makes it 750 for Kennedy, 405 for Johnson.

A moment later Wyoming stands up and the crowd roars and onto the ledger of history comes John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Democratic nominee for president of the United States.

Spicy Shrimp And Icy Coffee Make A Pretty Party Luncheon

For the most feminine and artistic of party luncheons, here is a wonderful new deviled specialty, baked and served in gracious shell-shaped ramekins. What the ramekins contain is a treat to behold. This delectable variation of more familiar deviled dishes stars the shrimp!

Smooth and spicy, Deviled Shrimp is a compliment-winner on every occasion. It's particularly welcome during the warm weather months because it takes a minimum of cooking time for a maximum of eating pleasure. Once the sauce has been blended, and the diced shrimp added, the individual ramekins are baked for just ten minutes. Each is garnished attractively with a whole shrimp just before serving.

As a cool complement to this tangy treat, serve your finest, frostiest coffee. To keep iced coffee full-strength, brew coffee a bit stronger than usual and pour it hot into ice-filled glasses. Just remember to prepare plenty of iced coffee—your guests will ask for another glass or two of this refreshing cooler.

Deviled Shrimp
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/4 cup flour
 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1 cup milk
 1 cup heavy cream
 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
 1 lb. medium shrimp, cooked
 Buttered bread crumbs

Melt butter and blend in next 5 ingredients. Combine milk and cream and add all at once. Stir over low heat until smooth and thickened. Add a little of the hot sauce to egg yolks and blend. Return egg mixture to sauce and blend. Save a few whole shrimps for garnish; dice remainder and add to sauce. Fill shell-shaped ramekins with shrimp mixture. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in hot oven, 400°, about 10 minutes. Garnish with whole shrimp. Makes 8 servings.

British Instant Beer May Change Our Way of Life

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—A thirsty world receives with a mixture of trepidation and delight the news that a British brewer has come up with a formula for instant beer.

Leave it to perfidious Albion to put a head on the 20th century's scientific development. While scientists most everywhere else in the world were mucking about with rockets and missiles, her majesty's laboratory legions, in true Alec Guinness fashion, were busy trying to extract a presto pint from their test tubes.

After many a long night and many a longer morning after, the breakthrough finally came at Burton-on-Trent, one of England's oldest beer factories.

It is still too early to tell whether the brewmaster will be knighted for his efforts and thereby become history's first bona fide beer baron.

However, now that the staff has sobered up from the hic heard round the world, it is time to consider what this singular achievement means in terms of our civilization and our way of life as we know it, or used to know it.

What, for instance, is to become of the venerable custom of going on the water wagon? Armed with a pail of sudden suds, the reform-minded souse certainly would fall off before he ever really got on, thereby dooming a perfectly usable expression to early obsolescence.

And think what will happen to the office lush. He won't even have to wait for the lunch whistle to wet his whistle. Right under the boss's nose and on company time, he can get a beautiful bun on simply by making periodic trips to the water cooler. If that arouses too much suspicion, he can always lap up the leavings in the saucer beneath the window plants.

Five years from now, Old Faithful Geyser and the Hoover Dam would undoubtedly be the nation's busiest saloons.

Alcoholics Anonymous would have to set up emergency chapters at every aqueduct, spillway, lake, fountain, and rain barrel in the land, and perhaps dispatch one of the faithful every time a back-sliding member felt like turning on a faucet.

A Boy Scout pulling on a canteen would be as suspect as a Bowery bum swigging on a pint bottle in a doorway.

The country's myriad closet drinkers could at last come out of the closet and get their kicks with the garden sprinkler.

Two Contractors Bid Identically; Drawing

BALTIMORE (AP)—For the first time in the memory of city officials, two contractors have submitted identical bids on a job which could not be split.

The Charles T. King Co., Inc., and Green Contracting Inc. both presented sealed bids of $103,900 last week on construction of a temporary boiler house at the city hall.

After several conferences, city officials agreed the winning contractor should be selected by means of chance—probably by picking a name out of a hat.

"Our only problem now," one official said, "is where we can find a hat on a hot summer's day."

Cool Refreshment for Hot Weather

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

Porch parties coming up! What's for refreshment?

At these afternoon affairs weight-watchers and other folk usually appreciate iced tea. We find one of the newer products, instant tea, convenient and pleasant tasting in this cold drink. It's a blend of teas (including orange pekoe) with nothing else added and that's all to the good.

You can use cold tap water with this tea and add ice. Exact proportions? Try 1 1/2 teaspoons instant tea to 1 cup water. To fancy up things, serve lemon with whole cloves inserted in each slice.

And do offer finely-granulated sugar to those who like their tea sweetened. Even if you don't keep this variety of sugar in the house all year round, it's worth having on your shelves in the summer because it dissolves readily in cold beverages.

For a nibble with iced tea, serve these devastatingly rich trifles:

PRALINE PUFFS

Ingredients: 1 package (1 pound and 1 ounce) pound-cake mix, 1/4 pound butter, 1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 2 egg whites, salt, 1/4 cup finely granulated sugar, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans.

Method: Make up pound cake according to package directions for baking in a 9-inch loaf pan. Cut 12 slices from the cake, each 1/2 inch thick. (Remaining cake may be served plain.) Cut 2 rounds from each slice with a 2-inch cookie cutter. (Raggle-taggle ends may be used in another dessert.) Cream butter and brown sugar; spread cake rounds with mixture but not to edges. Beat egg whites with a dash of salt until they hold floppy peaks. Gradually beat in sugar, then vanilla, until they hold stiff straight peaks; fold in pecans. Pile the meringue on rounds, spreading smoothly to edges to cover sugar mixture. Bake, placed slightly apart, on foil-lined cookie sheet, in extremely hot (500 degrees) oven 5 minutes, until meringue browns; turn off oven but do not remove for 5 minutes. Allow to cool somewhat before removing from foil. Serve warm or cold. Makes 24.

Frozen Soups Make Excellent Dips

When someone mentions "dips" or "dunks" two pictures come to mind. Perhaps you have visions of a hot day with a pool or lake in the background. Or, you immediately think of potato chips, crackers, and corn chips waiting to scoop up a creamy "dip" or "dunk." When those dips are made from frozen condensed soups you'll find them extra flavorful... extra smooth. Serve dips often... all year round... as a dinner appetizer, TV snack, or as a midnight nibble. Here are 2 dip recipes which you'll surely copy into your book once you've tried them:

Shrimp Dilly Dip
1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
1 package (5 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup chopped dill
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup whipping cream
1/2 cup crushed dried dill leaves
4 to 5 drops Tabasco

Thaw soup just before using, by placing unopened can in pan of hot water for about 30 minutes. With an electric mixer or rotary

New England Clam Dip
1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed clam chowder (New England style)
1 package (5 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 large clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Thaw soup just before using, by placing unopened can in pan of hot water for about 30 minutes. With an electric mixer or rotary beater, gradually blend soup with cream cheese, garlic, and Worcestershire, and lemon juice, beat until smooth. Chill. Makes about 2 cups.

Barbecued Chicken Tempt The Appetite

The smoky aroma of food sizzling over charcoal will tempt any weather-wilted appetite. When the cool of the evening settles over, roll out your barbecue grill and get started.

Barbecued Chicken will tickle the palate of your family and guests alike. Arrange split broilers on the grill... when the coals are glowing with the right degree of heat... and baste with a tempting sauce which uses canned condensed consommé as its base. Get the sauce "grill-ready" in the kitchen to save time at the actual cooking site.

Bring out, from the kitchen too, a casserole of saucy canned spaghetti with tomato sauce. It makes a perfect accompaniment to the chicken. A tossed salad and a cool beverage... tall glasses of refreshing iced tea... complete the menu.

Consomme Barbecue Sauce

1/2 cup chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons dry mustard
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
In saucepan, cook onion, garlic, and mustard in butter until onion is tender. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.
Chicken (Outdoor Method) — Prepare sauce. Brush 2 split broilers with salad oil; place on grill (skin-side up) about 6 inches above glowing coals. Cook 15 minutes; turn and cook 15 minutes longer. Brush with sauce; continue cooking about 30 minutes or until chicken is done, basting with sauce and turning every 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

What About Cuba?

Unmistakably President Eisenhower has responded wisely in notifying Soviet Premier Khrushchev that this country will protect its interest in the Western Hemisphere regardless of threats of Russian military aid to Cuba.

Even the most placid neutral must recognize that we cannot countenance Soviet Communism attempting in any way to establish a base in Cuba. This we must resist by all reasonable and necessary means. We plainly do not believe Khrushchev would in fact rain rockets on American soil if we sought to intervene in Cuba to protect our interests. He knows as well as we this would start World War III.

No doubt he would like very much to have an outpost in Cuba. But that is a luxury he will not be permitted. Most likely he is fully aware of this fact.

His real purposes would seem to be a bit more subtle. He would like to bind Cuba to Russia economically. He would like also to make it dependent on him for arms, which is a grave matter but not quite the blunt challenge that a Soviet base would represent.

None of this can be cheering to us. Our interests may already be in such serious jeopardy that the time for action is at hand.

The fanatical Fidel Castro, steeped in anti-American hatred, has given himself almost no choice but to move ever closer to the Soviet Union. If this movement is gradual, it poses a stiff dilemma for us.

At what point do we call a halt? When we can say, under these circumstances, that Soviet-Cuba collaboration has gone too far?

There is no easy answer. But to find the right one we ought perhaps to rely, not on our own judgment alone, but on the collective judgment of all the American states who have banded together for their mutual protection.

In some of these there may be legitimate sympathy for the aspirations toward freedom of the Cuban people, but surely all can see that such dreams will not be fulfilled in partnership with Khrushchev.

Let the ample machinery of hemispheric co-operation for defense against the outsider be brought into play soon. Neither the United States nor its friends in the other Americas should stand idly by while a deluded Castro invites tyranny and the promise of terror into the Western Hemisphere.

Kennedy Averse to Being a Rover Boy

DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES. — The question of too many young men in the Democratic ticket, the 35-hour week, Labor support, and alienation of the solid South all have come up in the backstage huddles over the picking of a Vice-Presidential candidate.

One young man proposed for vice president on the Kennedy ticket is Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota, who looks just as youthful as Sen. Jack Kennedy.

"Freeman is too young," Kennedy snorted to his advisers. "We would look like a couple of rover boys running for president."

Instead he sounded out Hubert Humphrey, the Minnesota Senator who Kennedy defeated so decisively in West Virginia. This threatened to break up a 20-year friendship which began when Humphrey and Freeman were struggling through the University of Minnesota and Freeman used to baby-sit for Humphrey, who had come back to college for a second try after the depression forced him out of school.

Word of the Kennedy-Humphrey talks immediately leaked to Freeman supporters who regarded them as a double cross. For the first time since the Humphrey-Freeman team burst into Minnesota politics, their supporters began quarreling.

Humphrey Nixes V.P.

In the interim, the top leaders of the nation had also moved into the backstage huddles on picking a vice president.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, Auto Workers' boss Walter Reuther and Steelworkers' boss Dave McDonald called upon Kennedy and urged him to take Humphrey as his running mate. They also asked him to endorse a 35-hour week.

Kennedy flatly refused to come out for a 35-hour week. But he spoke approvingly of Humphrey without giving any final pledge.

Meany also sent a delegation to call on Humphrey, including Reuther, Alex Rose of the Hat, Cap and Millinery workers, and Joe Keenan of the Electrical Workers.

...euther contended that Kennedy's political complexion would be determined by his running mate.

"A Kennedy-Johnson or a Kennedy-Symington ticket would be a conservative ticket, but a Kennedy-Humphrey ticket would be a liberal ticket," he said.

Rose, who also heads New York's Liberal Party, chimed in: "We need a liberal ticket to win. Kennedy will lose New York unless he has a strong liberal on the ticket. Adam Powell (The Harlem leader) will be against Kennedy unless his running mate is a strong Civil Rights man."

"Labor is divided on Kennedy, but we're 100 per cent for Humphrey," agreed Keenan. Humphrey explained that his old friend, Governor Freeman, wanted the nomination.

"I have had my crack at it. Now it's his turn," Humphrey shrugged. He urged the Labor delegation to support his old friend. The Labor leaders, however, did just the opposite. They called on Freeman and urged him to step aside for Humphrey. They went away with the impression that he had agreed to do so.

But when Freeman got together with Humphrey later to patch up their differences he still wanted to run for vice president. Humphrey said their friendship was more important to him than the vice presidency, that he wasn't anxious to run himself, and would support Freeman's candidacy.

Outside of the Minnesota delegation, however, Labor, Farm and Negro leaders are still boosting Humphrey for the second spot.

Note: Humphrey's sparkling wife Muriel put her foot down when he first toyed with the idea of going after the vice presidency.

"I scrubbed floors and you did janitor work to get into public life," she reminded him. "You can be re-elected to the Senate. But if you accept second place on the national ticket, what if the ticket should lose? You would risk your career in public life."

Kennedy Would Hush Sinatra

Sen. Jack Kennedy passed the word through his brother-in-law, Movie actor Peter Lawford, that he would rather sing Frank Sinatra than throw a party for him in Los Angeles.

Sinatra is an enthusiastic Kennedy booster whose two song-writers, Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen, wrote the Senator's campaign song, "High Hopes." But Kennedy is worried about Sinatra's association with notorious mobsters and connections with the Las Vegas gambling interests. Sinatra owns 4 per cent of the Sands at Vegas.

Kennedy welcomes Sinatra's support, but doesn't want it advertised.

Powell Against Kennedy

Handsome, flamboyant Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, the big political power in New York's Harlem, personally phoned all Negro delegates to the Democratic convention in an effort to organize them against Sen. Jack Kennedy.

In his phone pitch, Powell pooh-poohed the publicity over Kennedy's lunch with Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, and other Negro leaders. Instead, Powell reminded the Negro delegates that Kennedy had breakfasted with Alabama's Gov. John Patterson and Alabama State Senator Sam Englehardt, head of the Alabama white citizens' council.

Powell pleaded with the Negro delegates to remember that Patterson, campaigning for Governor, had shown a picture of a Negro father knocked down by a white man during the Little Rock, Ark., school crisis and had declared: "That is the way I would treat them."

The Harlem Congressman also charged that Kennedy voted in 1957 to send the Civil Rights Bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee which is run by Mississippi's Sen. Jim Eastland and that Kennedy's failure to join in censuring the late Sen. Joe McCarthy was "indefensible."

MacArthur Paradox

Two MacArthurs are linked with the present security treaty in Japan. The uncle, General Douglas MacArthur, dreamer of a neutral Japan, and the nephew, Douglas MacArthur II, the present U.S. Ambassador to Japan represent opposing policies for that nation.

Before the Korean war, according to C. L. Sulzberger of the New York Times, General MacArthur tried to make Japan another neutral and pacific Switzerland, with a constitution prohibiting national armed forces. The general felt that Japanese neutrality would be a benefit to everyone, including Japan, the United States, even Russia and China, but he did say that Japan should not be left open to the communists.

A decade later, along comes the nephew, appointed ambassador by President Eisenhower, to find that the constitution of General MacArthur is his greatest problem. Much of the dream of the general has become the stumbling block of the ambassador. Within ten years the United States policy toward Japan has swung from that of a de-militarized neutrality to that of an unneutral militarized nation.

The nephew is on the spot. The magic name of Douglas MacArthur is responsible for a confused state of mind among the people of Japan. Which policy is right must be left for history to decide.

Political Conventions Are Old-fashioned

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1960 political conventions are not the old-fashioned. They're contradictions.

Here in the sixth decade of the 20th Century they retain all the corny, long-winded, disorderly clatter of the 19th Century.

But they are nominating presidential candidates who are thoroughly modern.

Neither Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who got the Democratic nomination Wednesday night, nor Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who seems assured of the Republican nod, exudes much personal warmth. Neither is a moving speaker.

And just because both lack the power to excite they may put on a dull campaign.

Neither has the personal charm of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the fire of Harry S. Truman, or the easy geniality of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But both are superb technicians in politics.

Getting the nomination is for them no accident. They have worked for it for years, not only in person but by surrounding themselves with excellent young staffs, taking care of minute details, and planning ahead.

They are so expert in modern political techniques—from how to handle themselves on TV to lining up support far ahead of time—they have to be careful not to look too slick.

The one thing Kennedy and Nixon have in common is a thorough knowledge of national issues and the problems facing the country, although their stand on issues and solutions for the problems are not the same.

Either man as president would do far more homework, firsthand, than Eisenhower ever did. They've been doing it for years.

Eisenhower depended so much on staff work—on his advisers for information about issues and events—that he cheerfully admitted he does most of his newspaper reading on Sunday.

Nothing illustrates better the old-fashioned flavor of the 1960 conventions than the fact it took the Democrats almost eight hours of nominating speeches and banner-waving Wednesday before voting on a candidate.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Kennedy's closest rival for the Democratic nomination, disclosed at this week's convention he belongs to the old school of politicians.

One example was the arm-waving, stem-winding speeches, the clichés and literary flag waving in his TV appearance with Kennedy, who finished in a few minutes without flourishes.

To this writer, who has seen every political convention since 1944, Wednesday night's nomination of Kennedy seemed the least enthusiastic of the past 16 years.

The answer may be that it is difficult to get emotional about a technician. Why then was Kennedy chosen, aside from the fact that he and his supporters had worked for months lining up delegates?

Perhaps because the convention felt, consciously or not, that the accumulating problems of today call not only for a hard-working, well-informed candidate but one who acts and thinks in modern terms.

Moulder Strong Advocate Of National Fair Trade

By ROBERT E. HENNESSEE
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Sedalia's congressman is a very strong advocate of a bill to permit manufacturers of brand-named products — particularly drug store items—to establish the local retail price.

Morgan M. Moulder, who represents the 11th district, says a "National Fair Trade" bill would defend the consumer against monopolies.

And he takes particular issue with what he calls "most of the big publishers of this country" who oppose the bill.

"They are wrong," Moulder asserted, "because every attack on (national) fair trade legislation I have read assumes that fair trade will reduce competition and drive up consumer prices."

"Any prudent man who will dig deeply and objectively into the Nation's experience under fair trade and who will study the kind of fair trade legislation that is being proposed in Congress this year may come to a precisely opposite conclusion."

"In fact fair trade would preserve and protect competition by keeping the independent average retailer alive in his unequal struggle against powerful chains, and in doing this provide a long run protection for the consumer against local retail monopolies."

A national fair trade act, which is being pushed hardest by the Retail Druggist Association, has been approved by the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee, of which Moulder is a member, and is now lodged in Rep. Howard Smith's Rules committee.

When Congress reconvenes Aug. 8 fair trade proponents will press for a vote on the floor. Its chances of passage are rather dubious, especially since it is an election year.

Such a federal fair trade bill would hit hardest at discount stores and retail establishments which, while lacking say a good location or an impressive building, appeal for customers with lower prices.

Here in the Washington metropolitan area we have a good chance to view a local fair trade law and to compare prices.

Reaction to Tuberculin Skin Test No Cause for Alarm

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
The tuberculin skin test may understandably puzzle and unnecessarily alarm many who give a positive reaction to the injection (Mantoux test) or to application of the patch (Volmer test).

In response to several requests, I'd like to explain just what the test reveals and what it means.

First of all, the test material is an extract prepared from a special growth of tubercle bacilli. It is completely sterile. It cannot possibly transmit the disease.

Secondly, the purpose of the test is to determine whether the patient has developed immune bodies to combat the tubercle bacillus. It is not a test to determine the presence or absence of active infection.

The negative test means that the person tested has not developed immune bodies and hence may be susceptible to a tuberculous infection.

At times the negative test may be present when the infection is early or overwhelming.

In the case of the early infection that is not overwhelming, the test will become positive at a later time.

The positive test means that the person tested has developed immune bodies. These may have developed as the result of an infection so mild that it caused not the slightest distress (subclinical tuberculosis). Less often they develop as the result of active infection (clinical tuberculosis).

The size and intensity of the reaction is in no way related to the extent and severity of the infection.

The skin reaction may be fiery red, cover a wide area and persist for several days to a few weeks with a mildly active infection.

It may be merely pink and no larger than an area covered by a quarter in a fairly severe infection.

And, as I mentioned previously, it may be completely negative in an early or overwhelming invasion.

I'll deal with preventive tuberculin vaccination in another column.

Ruth Millett Says

Don't Be Indispensable, Ma, Take an Occasional Trip

"For five whole days I wasn't anybody's wife, anybody's mother or anybody's daughter. I was just me."

The middle-aged woman talking had just returned from the first trip she had ever taken by herself in over 20 years of married life.

Being a woman who had always lived for her family, she had never known what a real vacation it is for a busy wife and mother to be "just me" for a day or a week.

There was no reason why she shouldn't have gone away for a few days once a year. Her husband wouldn't have minded if she had ever said she wanted to get away for a few days. Having a mother close by, she knew her children would have been well taken care of.

But she stuck to her family without a single break for 20 years because she was tied down by the feminine conceit that her family couldn't get along without her—even for a few days.

Most of us women have a bit of that feeling. And yet if we make the effort to get away from all responsibility for a few days, we quickly learn that our husbands and children not only can manage without us for a brief period—but also that it seems to do them some good.

Having Mom out of the house for a while is almost as much of a change for the family as it is for Mama.

The kids get a taste of doing things Dad's way—which probably seems a little like camping out compared with Mom's way.

And, of course, after a few days of being "just me" Mama is delighted to get back to being indispensable to her family.

She comes back relaxed and refreshed and happily aware that no woman really wants to be "nobody's wife, nobody's mother and nobody's daughter" except for a few brief, carefree days.

MOUND BAYOU, Miss. (AP)—The oldest all-Negro community in the United States has observed its 73rd birthday.

Guest Editorial

ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT: Jim Kirkpatrick for Secretary of State. — James Kirkpatrick, a weekly newspaper publisher from Windsor, is a Democratic candidate for Secretary of State. He is experienced and qualified not only in the newspaper business but in state government as well, by virtue of the positions he has held as executive secretary to Gov. Forrest Smith and on the Board of Regents and as its president of Central Missouri State College.

By tradition and happy practice, the office of Secretary of State has always gone to a newspaperman, since the chief function of this official is to publish the official manual of Missouri every two years—a large-scale publishing job requiring experience and journalistic familiarity.

When a newspaperman is available who combines high journalistic talents (Jim Kirkpatrick has been president of the Missouri Press Association and has made an enviable record among the small newspapers of this state) with knowledge of practical politics, the public should take advantage of the opportunity to elect him.

The outstate press, which had had almost a third of a century to assess Jim Kirkpatrick's professional qualifications and which is notoriously harsh in its judgment, whenever a newspaperman becomes a candidate for office, is virtually unanimous in its support of their associate and friend.

In our opinion, too, Jim Kirkpatrick will make a fine Secretary of State. The Globe-Democrat endorses him without reservation.

Groceries, Supermarkets Aiming Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Supermarkets and neighborhood groceries are aiming their special offerings at outdoor cooks this weekend.

Featured are a great variety of meats for barbecues and picnics. Many types of vegetables and fruits are in bountiful supply to round out the outdoor menus.

For barbecue cooks there are chuck, shoulder, rib and cube steaks. The old standbys, ground beef and frankfurters are on some special lists, too.

Prices are down as much as 14 cents a pound in some areas for leg of lamb and 10 cents for loin veal chops.

Fish occupies a prominent place among the specials on the Eastern Seaboard.

Egg prices generally are up about two cents a dozen.

Watermelons and peaches are in especially large supply.

There has been a marked increase in the amount of New Jersey tomatoes available.

Best buys among vegetables constitute a long list, including beets, cabbage, cucumbers, egg plant, endive, escarole, iceberg lettuce, Eastern potatoes, nearby-grown radishes and summer squash.

Good buys are numerous also. They include beans, broccoli, cauliflower, celery, corn, Western iceberg lettuce, yellow onions, green peppers, tomatoes and green onions.

Blueberries, limes, peaches, cherries, lemons, plums and watermelons are the best buys on the fruit counters.

ODD BIRD—Joseph Welteroth Jr. holds a strange bird in Williamsport, Pa. "Goofy" has long pigeon legs but a hooked beak like a chicken, gray pigeon tail feathers but white chicken wing tips, a gray pigeon head but many white and blue chicken head feathers, one pigeon eye and one chicken eye. Scrambled egg, maybe.

TWO LOAVES FREE If You Don't Agree

We will send you an order on your grocer for two loaves free. We will just assume there must have been something wrong with your taste buds that morning, so you need another try. We are absolutely sure that no one ever tasted bread so good. This offer good until Sept. 10, 1960

FOR TOAST SUPREME—GET FAMOUS WONDER ENRICHED SANDWICH BREAD

What you may not know is the magic flavor "kick" milk sugar can give to toast flavor.

Try wonderful Wonder Sandwich Bread and enjoy the delicious difference—you'll be glad you did.
